PrepChamps, D1 Sports Co-Hosting Football Combine

By Philip Seaton - 5/1/2009 1:29:42 PM

Two weeks ago it was the FCA Combine at War Memorial Stadium and on Saturday, high school athletes will have another chance to showcase their skills.

A release for the event says that it would be a great opportunity to get recognized.

D1 Sports Training's exclusive partnership with PrepChamps allows them to bring professional-level combine training to young athletes in the Little Rock area. Athletes can register for the combine by visiting PrepChamps' website, www.Prepchamps.Com.

The goal for these high school football combines is to showcase the talents of young athletes and help them gain exposure during the college football recruiting process. The combine is free to all D1 members and only $30 for non-members. Teams who register 15 or more players will receive $10 off each player's fee.

While the link above takes you to the main page of the Web site, this one is a Direct Link for anyone that wants to register.
